SEARCH WARRANT PREPARATION:

CNOA and HIDTA are jointly hosting "Search Warrant Preparation". From the perspective of a seasoned Narcotics Investigator, this will cover all the aspects of obtaining a search warrant and serving it. From probable cause, to more exotic Boutique Warrants, this course will provide the participant with the information needed to determine when a warrant is needed, determine the type of warrant needed, and the best way of preparing it. George Driscoll has presented this class to thousands of law enforcement officers and prosecutors with rave reviews.

Instructors: INV George Driscoll and DDA Mary Knox, Contra Costa County District Attorney's Office

George Driscoll is a 31-year veteran of law enforcement with 22 years of experience in narcotics enforcement. Mr. Driscoll has taught various subjects in the narcotic enforcement field for over 20 years. Mr. Driscoll is a Captain in the Navy Reserve and holds a Masters Degree in Public Administration. Mr. Driscoll is a highly sought after instructor who brings to the subject matter a refreshing look from an investigator's view. Mr. Driscoll has taught at previous CNOA Annual Training Institutes, and the CNOA Narcotic Unit Supervisors Course. Mr. Driscoll is the recipient of CNOA's prestigious Alfred E. Stewart Memorial Narcotic Officer of the Year Award.

Mary Knox is a 25-year veteran state prosecutor with over 10 years experience prosecuting major narcotic offenders. Ms. Knox has extensive experience prosecuting career criminals and Three Strikes violators, and is currently on her second tour in the Homicide Prosecution Unit. Ms. Knox manages the DA's Office Training Program, and, in addition to teaching search warrant procedures for HIDTA and CNOA for the last several years, she has provided instruction to various law enforcement agencies for the last 18 years on topics ranging from courtroom testimony and legal update, to liability and Brady issues. In 2003, Ms. Knox was awarded CNOA's prestigious Narcotic Prosecutor of the Year Award.
